In addition, this amalgamation would provide transparency to the Promoters to engage and deal with the Transferee Company directly, leading to commitment and better functioning of businesses of the Transferee Company and benefit for the other shareholders of the Transferee Company.

3.3. It is expected that the integration, consolidation and amalgamation of the Transferor Companies with the Transferee Company would, inter-alia entail the following benefits:

(i) Achieve greater integration and greater financial strength and flexibility for the combined entity leading to stronger negotiation power in the market and strengthened leadership in the industry;

(ii) Achieve greater efficiency in cash management and unfettered access to large cash flows, effective and centralized management of funds generated by the combined business which can be deployed more efficiently to fund larger projects with a stronger platform and strengthen brand visibility;

In addition, it is expected that the integration, consolidation and amalgamation of the Transferor Companies with the Transferee Company would, inter-alia entail the following benefits:

- (a) Achieve greater integration and greater financial strength and flexibility for the combined entity leading to stronger negotiation power in the market and strengthened leadership in the industry;
- (b) Achieve greater efficiency in cash management and unfettered access to large cash flows, effective and centralized management of funds generated by the combined business which can be deployed more efficiently to fund larger projects with a stronger platform and strengthen brand visibility;

The Audit Committee of the Company, in terms of the circular resolution passed on 26th September, 2021 have unanimously appointed Shilpa Kiran Gududur ("Valuer"), Registered Valuer for issuance of this Report. The Engagement Letter has been signed by the Valuer and the Company on 26th September, 2021.

The purpose of this Valuation report is to arrive at a Share Entitlement Ratio for the proposed scheme of Amalgamation of Microin Services Private Limited and Innerframe Services Private Limited with Microland Limited. The scope of my services is to conduct a relative (and not absolute) valuation of equity shares of the Companies and report share entitlement ratio for the Proposed Amalgamation in accordance with internationally accepted valuation standards. This Valuation report has been prepared based on the information furnished to me.

Based on the valuation, I recommend the following Share Entitlement Ratio for Amalgamation of Microin Services Private Limited and Innerframe Services Private Limited with Microland Limited:

"3,49,070 Equity Shares of Microland (Transferee Company) face value of Rs.1/- each for 100 Equity Share of Microin (Transferor Company 1) with face value of Rs.10/- each fully paid up.

1,37,737 Equity Shares of Microland (Transferee Company) face value of Rs.1/- each for 100 Equity Share of Innerframe (Transferor Company 2) with face value of Rs.10/- each fully paid up."

No fractional shares shall be issued by the Transferee Company and all fractions shall be rounded off to the nearest whole number.

In my opinion, the above Share Entitlement Ratio of shares would be fair and equitable to the shareholders of all the companies. I appreciate the co-operation received from your executives during this assignment.

Thanking you,

Yours faithfully,

as an accurate assessment of the future impact of the Coronavirus on the Company, or any prediction regarding the future course of events that would arise due to the Covid crisis.

The Company had taken certain measures in March 2020 when the impact of the COVID-19 pandemic started impacting the country. In compliance with the safeguard measures taken by the various governments, offices were on lockdown and all employees of the company started working from home from March of 2020.

Since the services provided by the company to its customers were on a remote basis, the movement of employees to work from home did not impact its services adversely. Also, company enabled its employees by giving necessary support by providing infra required to work from home like backup UPS, shifting of desktops to home, provide data cards etc.

Similar restrictions placed by the governments in other countries also prevented our employees not able to go to the customer premises for providing services. However, since the nature of services provided can be done remotely also, those employees have supported such customers remotely from their homes (Work From Home).

Due to the above measures the company's revenues has not been adversely impacted due to the pandemic. The closure of their facilities has also resulted in savings in facility maintenance costs like Electricity, Staff Welfare, Employee Transport costs etc, which resulted in better profitability in FY 2020-21. Later, when the restrictions continued the company exited few certain leased premises, which also resulted in savings during the year.

Supportive regulatory environment, stringent cost control measures, sufficient availability of liquidity, workforce and safe work environment enables the Company to overcome the COVID-19 situation without any adverse impact. Company maintains a healthy cash and bank balances and unutilised working capital limits to effectively mitigate any liquidity risks. The financial projections and scenario analysis further asserts its ability to continue to earn operating profit.

VALUATION METHODOLOGY

There are several commonly used and accepted methods for determining the fair value of the business of a Company. They mainly fall under the following three categories:

- Income Approach
- Cost Approach (and)
- Market Approach;

The application of any aforesaid method of valuation depends on the nature of operations, level of maturity of the businesses, future business potential and purpose of valuation. For the purpose of arriving at the fair value of the Equity shares of the Company, it would be necessary to select an appropriate basis for valuation from among the various alternatives available.

Income Approach

Income approach is the valuation technique that converts future amounts (e.g., cash flows or income and expenses) to a single current (i.e., discounted) amount. The fair value measurement is determined on the basis of the value indicated by current market expectations about those future amounts.

Income approach includes different models of valuation, out of which Discounted Cash Flow model ("DCF") is the most commonly used methodology for various assets such as shares, businesses, real estate projects, debt instruments, etc.

The DCF method values the asset by discounting the cash flows expected to be generated by the asset for the explicit forecast period and also the perpetuity value (or terminal value) in case of indefinite life assets. Terminal value is the value of the asset at the end of the explicit forecast period.

DCF is based upon expected future cash flows of the Company that will determine investor's actual return and is not influenced by short-term market conditions or non-economic indicators. DCF methodology is not vulnerable to accounting conventions since it is based on cash flows rather than accounting profits. DCF method of valuation is based on two key inputs: Cash flows and Discount rate.

Cash flow projections used for DCF shall reasonably capture the growth prospects and earnings capability of the Company, and shall be determined based on its past performance and factors such as the Company's vulnerability to advancement in technology, actions by competitors, changes in end-user requirements, expansion plans, cyclical fluctuations, effects of change in government policies, availability of financing etc.

Discount rate ("Cost of Capital") is the return expected by a market participant from a particular investment and shall not only reflect the time value of money but also the inherent risk in the asset being valued as well as risk inherent in achieving the future cash flows.

There are many methods which are used for determining the discount rate. The most commonly used methods are Capital Asset Pricing Model ("CAPM") and Weighted Average Cost of Capital ("WACC") which is the combination of cost of equity and cost of debt weighted for their relative funding in the asset. Additional risk premium can be added to the Discount rate to incorporate specific risks associated with stage and size of business of the Company.

Terminal value represents the present value at the end of explicit forecast period of all subsequent cash flows to the end of the life of the asset or into perpetuity if the asset has an indefinite life. There are multiple methods in estimating the terminal value which include Gordon (Constant) growth model, Variable growth model, Exit multiple and Salvage/liquidation value among others.

Cost Approach

Cost approach is a valuation technique that reflects the amount that would be required to replace the current service capacity of net assets of the Company or the value that net assets of the Company can derive. Cost approach may be most appropriate for valuation in following specific circumstances:

- An asset can be quickly recreated with substantially the same utility as the asset to be valued and without regulatory or legal restrictions;
- In case of liquidation; or
- In cases where income approach and/or market approach cannot be used, such as:
 - a. Where there is paucity of information about future profitability or uncertainty about future cash flows;
 - b. Where there are violent fluctuations or disruptions in future cashflows;
- Where it is required by specific provisions of any tax or other statutes;

Market Approach

Market approach is a valuation technique that uses prices and other relevant information generated by market transactions involving identical or comparable (i.e., similar) assets, liabilities or a group of assets and liabilities, such as a business. Most commonly used methods under market approach are Market price method, Comparable companies multiple (CCM) or Comparable transactions multiple (CTM) method.

Under Market price method the traded price of the asset observed over a reasonable period shall be considered. Comparable Companies Multiple Method, also known as Guideline Public Company Method, involves valuing an asset based on market multiples derived from prices of market comparable traded on active market. While identifying and selecting the market comparable, following factors shall be considered:

- industry to which the asset belongs;
- geographic area of operations;
- similar line of business, or similar economic forces that affect the asset being valued; or
- other parameters such as size (for example - revenue, assets, etc), stage of lifecycle of the asset, profitability, diversification, etc.

Comparable Transaction Multiple Method, also known as 'Guideline Transaction Method' involves valuing an asset based on transaction multiples derived from prices paid in transactions of asset to be valued /market comparable (comparable transactions). While identifying and selecting the comparable transaction, following factors shall be considered:

- transactions that have been consummated closer to the valuation date are generally more representative of the market conditions prevailing during that time;
- there shall be in an orderly transaction;
- availability of sufficient information on the transaction to reasonably understand the market comparable and derive the transaction multiple; or
- availability of information on transaction from reliable sources;

XVI. VALUATION BASE AND PREMISE

Premise of Valuation: The estimate of the valuation of the company was on the basic assumption of a "going concern premise". This premise assumes that the Company is a Going concern i.e., a business enterprise that is conducting operations at a given date, has every reasonable expectation of doing so for the foreseeable future after that date. Going concern value is the value of a Business Enterprise that is expected to continue to operate into the future. The intangible elements of Going Concern Value result from factors such as having an experienced team, the growth potential of the company, the business opportunities ahead, the USP of the services of the company, the systems and procedures in place.

Basis of value: Fair Value

Fair Value per Equity Share of the Companies is derived by referring to the total value that the Companies can accumulate over the period by operating as going concern.

XVII. SELECTION OF APPROACH AND METHOD AND MAJOR FACTORS THAT WERE TAKEN INTO ACCOUNT DURING THE VALUATION

I have considered various approaches and methods available for determining the value of equity share of the Company, the relative emphasis of each was considered based on:

- Nature and stage of business of the company;
- Nature of industry to which the company belongs;
- Reliability and availability of adequate inputs/information for each method/approach of valuation;
- Extent of availability of industry and comparable information;
- The purpose of valuation;
- Regulatory Requirement: In Compliance with provisions of The Companies Act, 2013.

Keeping in mind the purpose of the report and availability of information I have adopted below stated methodologies since in my view it derives best estimate value of equity share of the Companies:

Name of the Company	Valuation Approach
Microland Limited (Please refer note 1)	Income Approach- Discount Cash Flow methodology
Microin Services Private Limited (Please refer note 2)	Asset Approach- Net Asset Value methodology
Innerframe Services Private Limited (Please refer note 2)	Asset Approach- Net Asset Value methodology

Note:

1. I am given to understand from the management of Microland through the financial information and the financial projections of Microland that, it is a profit-making entity and management has reasonable grounds for such future estimates. Hence, we have adopted Income Approach – Discount Cash Flow methodology.

I did not use Market Approach to estimate the value of Microland as there are no publicly listed comparable companies with significant revenue from remote infrastructure management services.

2. I am given to understand from the management of Microin and Innerframe that as on Valuation Date there are no business operations carried on by Microin and Innerframe respectively and they are unable to build any business projections with reasonable estimates as on Valuation Date. Hence, we have adopted Asset Approach – Net Asset Value Methodology, since in our opinion it derives the best estimate of Fair Value per Equity Share of Microin and Innerframe as on Valuation Date. Further, adjusted the fair value of their investment in Microland (computed based on DCF method).

15. Terminal Value: -

Terminal Growth Rate (TGR) is long term average growth rate of a Company which estimates the rate at which a Company would perpetually grow when its business stabilizes. The terminal value refers to the present value of the business as a going concern beyond the period of projections up-to infinity. This value is estimated by taking into account expected growth rate of the industry and economy. Based on dynamics of the sector and discussions with the Management, we have assumed a terminal growth rate of 5% for the Company beyond the projection period. The cash flows of FY 2026-27 have been used to determine the terminal value. Based on these assumptions, the terminal value has been calculated as follows.

Terminal Value (TV)	=FCF*(1+TGR)/(WACC-TGR)
	Note:
	Free Cash Flow (FCF)
	Terminal Growth Rate (TGR)
	Weighted Average Cost of Capital (WACC)

Terminal Value assumptions :-

MICROLAND LIMITED
NOTES TO THE STANDALONE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS [UNAUDITED]
 (Rs. in lakhs, except share and per share data, unless otherwise stated)

1 Company overview

Microland Limited is specialist IT Infrastructure Services Provider, offering a comprehensive range of services to clients across the globe. Microland has operations across the globe with presence in USA, UK and Middle East.

2 Significant accounting policies

2.1 Basis of preparation of standalone financial statements

The standalone financial statements are prepared in accordance with Generally Accepted Accounting Principles in India (GAAP) under the historical cost convention on the accrual basis, except for certain financial instruments which are measured on a fair value basis. GAAP comprises accounting standards as prescribed under Section 133 of the Companies Act, 2013 ('Act') read with Rule 7 of the Companies (Accounts) Rules, 2014, and the relevant provisions of the Companies Act, 2013 ('the 2013 Act') / Companies Act, 1956 ('the 1956 Act'), as applicable, Accounting Standards ('AS') guidance notes issued by Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (ICAI) and other generally accepted accounting principles in India. The standalone financial statements are presented in Indian rupees rounded off to the nearest lakhs of rupee.

2.2 Use of estimates

The preparation of financial statements in conformity with Generally Accepted Accounting Principles (GAAP) in India, requires management to make judgments, estimates and assumptions that affect the application of accounting policies and reported amounts of assets, liabilities, income and expenses and the disclosure of contingent liabilities on the date of the financial statements. Actual results could differ from those estimates. Estimates and underlying assumptions are reviewed on an ongoing basis. Any revision to accounting estimates is recognized prospectively in current and future periods.

Impact of Covid 19

The Company has taken into account the possible impacts of COVID-19 in preparation of the standalone annual financial statements, including but not limited to its assessment of liquidity and going concern assumption, carrying amounts of current assets including trade receivables, unbilled and non current assets as well as liabilities accrued. In developing the assumptions relating to the possible future uncertainties in the economic conditions because of this pandemic, the Company has used internal and external information such as our current contract terms, financial strength of partners, future volume estimates from the business etc. Having reviewed the underlying data and based on current estimates the Company expects the carrying amount of these assets will be recovered and there is no significant impact on liabilities accrued. The impact of COVID-19 on the Company's financial statements may differ from that estimated as at the date of approval of these financial statements and the Company will continue to closely monitor any material changes to future economic conditions.

2.3 Fixed assets and depreciation

Property, plant and equipment

Property, plant and equipment are carried at cost of acquisition less accumulated depreciation and/or accumulated impairment loss, if any. The cost of an item of property, plant and equipment comprises its purchase price, including import duties and other non-refundable taxes or levies and any directly attributable cost of bringing the asset to its working condition for its intended use; any trade discounts and rebates are deducted in arriving at the purchase price.

Leases under which the Company assumes substantially all the risks and rewards of ownership are classified as finance leases. Assets taken on finance lease are initially capitalized at fair value of the asset or present value of the minimum lease payments at the inception of the lease, whichever is lower. Lease payments are apportioned between the finance charge and the reduction of the outstanding liability. The finance charge is allocated to periods during the lease term so as to produce a constant periodic rate of interest on the remaining balance of the liability for each period.

The Company has provided for depreciation using straight line method over the useful life of the assets estimated by the Management:

Asset classification	Useful life	Asset classification	Useful life
Plant and equipment	10%	Electrical equipment	25%
Data processing equipment	25% / 33.33%	Office equipment
Furniture and fixtures	20%	- General	25%
Vehicles	20%	- Cellular phones	33.33%

For the class of assets mentioned above, based on technical assessment carried out by experts engaged by management, the useful lives as given above best represent the period over which management expects to use these assets. Hence the useful lives for these assets are different from the useful lives as prescribed under Part C of Schedule II of the Companies Act, 2013.

Leasehold improvements are amortized over the lease term or useful life of assets, whichever is lower.

Depreciation is provided on a pro-rata basis i.e. from the date on which the asset is ready for use and up to the date of deletion.

Assets acquired under finance lease are amortized over their estimated useful life or the lease term, whichever is lower.

MICROLAND LIMITED
NOTES TO THE STANDALONE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS | UNAUDITED|
(Rs. in lakhs, except share and per share data, unless otherwise stated)

Advances paid towards the acquisition of fixed assets, outstanding at each balance sheet date are shown under capital advances. The cost of the property, plant and equipment not ready for its intended use on such date, is disclosed under capital work-in-progress.

Intangible assets

Intangible assets that are acquired by the Company are measured initially at cost. After initial recognition, an intangible asset is carried at its cost less any accumulated amortization and any accumulated impairment loss.

Intangible assets are amortized in the statement of profit and loss over their estimated useful lives of two years, from the date that they are available for use based on the expected pattern of consumption of economic benefits of the asset.

2.4 Impairment of asset

The Company assesses at each balance sheet date whether there is any indication that an asset may be impaired. If any such indication exists, the Company estimates the recoverable amount of the asset. For an asset that does not generate largely independent cash inflows, the recoverable amount is determined for the cash-generating unit to which the asset belongs. If such recoverable amount of the asset or the recoverable amount of the cash generating unit to which the asset belongs is less than its carrying amount, the carrying amount is reduced to its recoverable amount. The reduction is treated as an impairment loss and is recognized in the statement of profit and loss. If at the balance sheet date there is an indication that if a previously assessed impairment loss no longer exists, the recoverable amount is reassessed and the asset is reflected at the recoverable amount. An impairment loss is reversed only to the extent that the carrying amount of asset does not exceed the net book value that would have been determined; if no impairment loss had been recognized.

2.5 Investments

Investments are classified into current and non-current investments. Current investments are stated at the lower of cost and fair value. Non-current investments are stated at cost. A provision for diminution is made to recognize a decline, other than temporary, separately for each individual non-current investments.

Investments that are readily realizable and are intended to be held for not more than one year from the date on which such investments are made, are classified as "Current investments".

All other investments are classified as "Non-current investments".

Profit or loss on sale of investments is determined as the difference between the sale price and carrying value of investment, determined individually for each investment.

2.6 Revenue recognition

Services

The Company derives its revenues primarily from Information Technology (IT) services. Revenue from IT services on time-and-material basis is recognized as the related services are rendered.

Revenue from fixed price contracts is recognized using the proportionate completion method, which is determined by relating the actual project cost of work performed to date to the estimated total project cost for each contract. Provision for estimated losses, if any, on incomplete contracts are recorded in the period in which such losses become probable based on the current contract estimates.

Revenue from device management is recognized ratably over the period of the contract and is recognized on basis of devices serviced at the rate applicable for such respective devices.

Revenue from maintenance contracts is recognized ratably over the period of the maintenance contract and is recognized on a straight-line basis over the specified period.

Unbilled revenue, disclosed in the standalone financial statements under other current assets, represents earnings in excess of billings as at the balance sheet date. Unearned income, disclosed in the standalone financial statements under other current liabilities, represents billings in excess of earnings.

Amount received towards services are reported as advances from customers under current liabilities until all the conditions of revenue recognition are met.

Provision for discounts is recognized on an accrual basis in accordance with contractual terms of agreements with customers. Revenues are stated net of discount.

Other Income

Interest is recognized using the time-proportion method, based on rates implicit in the transaction. Dividend income is recognized when the Company's right to receive dividend is established.

MICROLAND LIMITEDNOTES TO THE STANDALONE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS [UNAUDITED]

(Rs. in lakhs, except share and per share data, unless otherwise stated)

2.7 Foreign exchange transactions

Foreign exchange transactions are recorded using the exchange rates prevailing on the dates of the respective transactions. Exchange differences arising on foreign exchange transactions settled during the year are recognized in the statement of profit and loss for the year.

Monetary assets and liabilities denominated in foreign currencies as at the balance sheet date are translated at the closing exchange rates on that date; the resultant exchange differences are recognized in the statement of profit and loss. Non-monetary items which are carried in terms of historical cost denominated in a foreign currency are reported using the exchange rate at the date of the transaction.

In respect of integral operations, monetary assets and liabilities are translated at the exchange rate prevailing at the date of the balance sheet. Non-monetary items are translated at the historical rate. The items in the statement of profit and loss are translated at the rates prevailing on the dates of the respective transactions. The differences arising out of the translation are recognized in the statement of profit and loss.

The Company is exposed to foreign currency transactions including foreign currency revenues and receivables. With a view to minimize the volatility arising from fluctuations in currency rates, the Company enters into foreign exchange forward contracts.

The premium or discount arising at the inception of forward exchange contracts entered into to hedge an existing asset/liability, is amortized as an expense or income over the life of the contract. Exchange differences on such a contract are recognized in the statement of profit and loss in the reporting period in which the exchange rates change. Any profit or loss arising on cancellation or renewal of such a forward exchange contract are recognized as income or as expense for the period.

The Company also enters into forward exchange contracts on account of firm commitment/highly probable transactions. The Company has adopted the principles of the "Guidance Note on Accounting for Derivative Contracts" issued by the Institute of Chartered Accountants of India (ICAI). Accordingly, derivatives are marked to market and the changes in the value of such derivatives, to the extent they reflect a gain/loss, are recognized in statement of profit and loss.

2.8 Employee benefitsShort-term employee benefits

Employee benefits payable wholly within twelve months of receiving employee services are classified as short-term employee benefits. These benefits include salaries and wages, bonus and ex-gratia. The undiscounted amount of short-term employee benefits to be paid in exchange for employee services is recognized as an expense as the related service is rendered by employees.

Post-employment benefitsDefined benefit plans

In accordance with applicable Indian laws, the Company provides for gratuity, a defined benefit retirement plan (Gratuity Plan) covering all employees. The Gratuity plan provides a lump sum payment to vested employees, at retirement or termination of employment, an amount based on the respective employee's last drawn salary and the years of employment with the Company. The Company makes contribution towards gratuity into an approved gratuity fund administered by Life Insurance Corporation ("Insurer"). Gratuity is accrued based on an actuarial valuation at the balance sheet date, carried out by an independent actuary. Actuarial gain and losses are charged to the statement of profit and loss.

Employees receive benefits from a provident fund. The employee and employer each make monthly contributions to the plan. A portion of the contribution is made to the provident fund trust managed by the Company, while the remainder of the contribution is made to the Government's provident fund. The Company is generally liable for any shortfall in the fund assets based on the government specified minimum rate of return.

Compensated absences

The employees can carry-forward a portion of the unutilized accrued compensated absences and utilize it in future service periods or receive cash compensation on termination of employment. The Company records an obligation for such compensated absences in the period in which the employee renders the services that increase this entitlement. The obligation is measured on the basis of independent actuarial valuation using the projected unit credit method.

2.9 Operating leases

Assets acquired under leases other than finance leases are classified as operating leases. The total lease rentals (including scheduled rental increases) in respect of an asset taken on operating lease are charged to the statement of profit and loss on a straight line basis over the lease term unless another systematic basis is more representative of the time pattern of the benefit. Initial direct costs incurred specifically for an operating lease are deferred and charged to the statement of profit and loss over the lease term.

MICROLAND LIMITEDNOTES TO THE STANDALONE FINANCIAL STATEMENTS | UNAUDITED|

(Rs. in lakhs, except share and per share data, unless otherwise stated)

2.10 Income taxes

Income-tax expense comprises current tax (i.e. amount of tax for the year determined in accordance with the income-tax law) and deferred tax charge or credit (reflecting the tax effects of timing differences between accounting income and taxable income for the year). Income-tax expense is recognized in the statement of profit or loss.

Current tax is measured at the amount expected to be paid to (recovered from) the taxation authorities, using the applicable tax rates and tax laws. Deferred tax is recognized in respect of timing differences between taxable income and accounting income i.e. differences that originate in one period and are capable of reversal in one or more subsequent periods. The deferred tax charge or credit and the corresponding deferred tax liabilities or assets are recognized using the tax rates and tax laws that have been enacted or substantively enacted by the balance sheet date. Deferred tax assets are recognized only to the extent there is reasonable certainty that the assets can be realized in future; however, where there is unabsorbed depreciation or carried forward loss under taxation laws, deferred tax assets are recognized only if there is a virtual certainty supported by convincing evidence that sufficient future taxable income will be available against which such deferred tax assets can be realized. Deferred tax assets are reviewed as at each balance sheet date and written down or written-up to reflect the amount that is reasonably/virtually certain (as the case may be) to be realized.

In the current financial year, the Company elected to exercise the option permitted under section 115BAA(1) of the Income-tax Act, 1961 after satisfying the conditions contained in section 115BAA(2) as introduced by the Taxation Laws (Amendment) Ordinance, 2019. Accordingly, the Company has recognized provision for income tax for the year ended 31 March 2020 and computed deferred tax based on the rate prescribed in the said section. Further, upon adoption of this option, the provisions of MAT and tax benefits from SEZs are not applicable/available to the Company.

Hitherto, for operations carried out in SEZs, deferred tax assets or liabilities, if any, have been established for the tax consequences of those temporary differences between the carrying values of assets and liabilities and their respective tax bases that reverse after the tax holiday ends.

Similarly, Minimum Alternative Tax ("MAT") paid in accordance with the tax laws which gives rise to future economic benefits in the form of adjustments of future income tax liability, is considered as an asset if there is convincing evidence that the Company will pay normal tax in subsequent years. MAT credit entitlement can be carried forward and utilized for a period of fifteen years from the year in which the same is availed. Accordingly, it is recognized as an asset in the balance sheet when it is probable that the future economic benefit associated with it will flow to the Company and the asset can be measured reliably. On exercise of the option mentioned above, the MAT credit available from earlier years has been reversed in the current year.

2.11 Provision and contingent liabilities

The Company creates a provision when there is a present obligation as a result of a past event that probably requires an outflow of resources and a reliable estimate can be made of the amount of the obligation. A disclosure for a contingent liability is made when there is a possible obligation or a present obligation that may, but probably will not, require an outflow of resources. When there is a possible obligation or a present obligation in respect of which the likelihood of outflow of resources is remote, no provision or disclosure is made.

Provisions for onerous contracts, i.e. contracts where the expected unavoidable costs of meeting the obligations under the contract exceed the economic benefits expected to be received under it are recognized when it is probable that an outflow of resources embodying economic benefits will be required to settle a present obligation as a result of an obligating event, based on a reliable estimate of such obligation.

2.12 Earnings per share

In determining earnings per share, the Company considers the net profit after tax and includes the post-tax effect of any extra-ordinary item. The number of equity shares used in computing basic earnings per share is the weighted average number of equity shares outstanding during the year. The number of equity shares used in computing diluted earnings per share comprises weighted average number of equity shares considered for deriving basic earnings per share and also weighted average number of equity shares which could have been issued on the conversion of all dilutive potential equity shares. Dilutive potential equity shares are deemed converted as of the beginning of the year, unless issued at a later date. In computing diluted earnings per share, only potential equity shares that are dilutive and that either reduces earnings per share or increases loss per share are included. The number of shares and potentially dilutive equity shares are adjusted retrospectively for all periods presented for the share splits.

2.13 Employee stock based compensation

The Company measures the compensation cost relating to employee stock options using the intrinsic value method. The compensation cost is amortized on a graded vesting method, over the vesting/ service period.

2.14 Cash flow statement

Cash flows are reported using the indirect method, whereby net profit before tax is adjusted for the effects of transactions of a non-cash nature and any deferrals or accruals of past or future cash receipts or payments. The cash flows from operating, investing and financing activities of the Company are segregated.

2.15 Cash and cash equivalents

Cash and cash equivalents comprises cash in hand and balance in bank in current accounts and deposit accounts.

This date may be a specific calendar date or may be tied to the occurrence of an event such as grant of license by a competent authority or fulfilment of any preconditions agreed upon by the parties, or meeting any other requirement as agreed upon between the parties etc., which are relevant to the scheme.

(b) The ‘appointed date’ identified under the scheme shall also be deemed to be the ‘acquisition date’ and date of transfer of control for the purpose of conforming to accounting standards (including Ind-AS 103 Business Combinations).

(c) Where the ‘appointed date’ is chosen as a specific calendar date, it might precede the date of filing of the application for scheme of merger/amalgamation in NCLT. However, if the ‘appointed date’ is significantly ante-dated beyond a year from the date of filing, the justification for the same would have to be specifically brought out in the scheme and it should not be against public interest.

(d) The scheme may identify the ‘appointed date’ based on the occurrence of a trigger event which is key to the proposed scheme and agreed upon by the parties to the scheme. This event would have to be indicated in the scheme itself upon occurrence of which the scheme would become effective. However in case of such event based date being a date subsequent to the date of filing the order with the Registrar under section 232(5), the company shall file an intimation of the same with the Registrar under section 232(5), the company shall file an intimation of the same with Registrar within 30 days of such scheme coming into force.”
